

A row taller than the page

The first row holds a 620pt block on a band of roughly 260pt, so it spans three pages on its own. The rows after it start below where it ends, not back inside it.

Figure

One block, taller than any page can hold.

Figure

Figure
The row after it, immediately below.
And the row after that.
And one more, so the sequence is visible.