

text-decoration-style

Every style is one stroke with a dash pattern, except double and wavy. Double is two strokes of the resolved thickness separated by a gap of the same thickness: the first stroke stays where a single one would sit and the second grows away from the text — downward for an underline and a line-through, upward for an overline. Wavy strokes a curved path instead of a dash pattern (css-text-decor-3 §2.2: "Draw a wavy line") — its centerline grows away from the text the same direction double's second stroke does.

The five styles, as underlines

solid

Hamburgetonstiv

dotted

Hamburgetonstiv

dashed

Hamburgetonstiv

double

Hamburgetonstiv

wavy

Hamburgetonstiv

double on each line, and at a heavier thickness

underline double — grows downward

Hamburgetonstiv

overline double — grows upward

Hamburgetonstiv

line-through double — grows downward

Hamburgetonstiv

underline double, text-decoration-thickness: 2px

Hamburgetonstiv

wavy on each line, at a heavier thickness, and skipping ink

underline wavy

Hamburgetonstiv

overline wavy

Hamburgetonstiv

line-through wavy

Hamburgetonstiv

underline wavy, text-decoration-thickness: 3px

Hamburgetonstiv

underline wavy, text-decoration-skip-ink breaks it around descenders

Typography judging a quick pig

What it is for

Subtotal	1,000.00
Tax	80.00
Total	1,080.00